CANADA'S NEW OMICRON TRAVEL RULES AT A GLANCE

Following the emergence of the Omicron variant, Canada imposed a raft of new travel restrictions. Increased restrictions have been imposed on travelers from ten African countries. Botswana, Egypt, Eswatini, Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, Namibia, Nigeria, South Africa, and Zimbabwe are among those affected. Foreign nationals who have visited any of these countries within the last 14 days are not permitted to enter Canada. The new regulations also apply to Canadian citizens and permanent residents who travel from these nations. In order to return home, they must first pass a COVID-19 test in a third nation. A temporary mechanism is presently in place that allows Canadians to be tested in South Africa, one of the nations with entry limitations.

ONTARIO ISSUES 1,186 INVITATIONS IN LATEST NOMINEE DRAW

On December 7, Ontario issued a second set of invites. So far in 2021, the Ontario Immigrant Nominee Program (OINP) has issued 5,331 invites across its three Employer Job Offer streams.

Ontario's Employer Job Offer: Foreign Worker stream

The Ontario Immigrant Nominee Program manages the Foreign Worker program, which is an Employer Job Offer stream (OINP). Foreign nationals with skilled work experience and a verifiable job offer from an Ontario firm are targeted for this stream.

Eligible candidates must fill out an Expression of Interest (EOI) form on the OINP's online application portal. Candidates that meet the criteria will be invited to apply for provincial nomination. Successful nominees may apply for permanent residency in Canada through the federal government.

Ontario's Employer Job Offer: In-Demand Skills stream

Foreign nationals with Ontario work experience in one of the province's in-demand occupations and a valid job offer from an Ontario company are eligible for In Demand Skills.

Eligible candidates must fill out an Expression of Interest profile on the Ontario government's website. Since the beginning of the In-Demand Skills drawing in July 2021, no minimum score has been set.

EXPRESS ENTRY: CANADA HOLDS BIGGEST PNP DRAW EVER

On December 10, Canada staged a new Express Entry draw. A total of 1,032 people were invited to apply for permanent residency.

Invited candidates had already been nominated through a Provincial Nominee Program (PNP), which added 600 points to their baseline human capital score. As a result, the draw's minimum cut-off was 698.

Since the inception of Express Entry in 2015, Immigration, Refugees, and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) has only held 38 PNP-only drawings. With the exception of this draw and the June 23 draw, they usually send out fewer than a thousand invites.

PNP drawings have only been held by IRCC since September. This is the seventh time in a row that such a draw has occurred. IRCC invited 613 candidates with scores of at least 737 in the previous Express Entry draw.

ARE EXPRESS ENTRY APPLICATIONS BEING PROCESSED?

Immigration, Refugees, and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) halted Federal Skilled Worker (FSW) applications throughout the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic. Delays in FSW application processing have persisted beyond the pandemic's end, owing to a significant backlog.

Given that the majority of federal skilled worker (FSW) candidates were unable to travel to Canada, IRCC has paused inviting these candidates to Express Entry drawings until December 2020. Instead, Canada has only issued Invitations to Apply (ITA) to individuals who are already in the country, such as those qualifying through the Canadian Experience Class (CEC) and Provincial Nominee Program (PNP).

Canadian travel restrictions were changed in June 2021, allowing all CoPR holders to enter the country. IRCC, on the other hand, had to reconsider the admissibility of several candidates whose cases had been put on hold. As a result, many Federal Skilled Worker (FSW) applicants have seen significant delays in their applications being processed.

Since the COVID-19 era, Canada has permitted international students to credit time spent studying online toward the length of a post-graduate work visa (PGWP). Though the policy was supposed to expire on December 31, 2021, the government has extended it to August 31, 2022.

That is, between March 2020 and August 31, 2022, all time spent studying online from outside Canada will count towards the term of a post-graduate work permit.

A post-graduate work permit can be awarded for up to three years depending on the length of your study. Any study time spent prior to applying for a study permit will not be counted against the period of the work permit. After August 31, 2022, time spent studying online outside of Canada will not be considered.

Students who are taking two Canadian study programs can also complete all of their studies online if the programs are continuing or began between March 2020 and Summer 2022.

ONLINE STUDIES TO COUNT TOWARD PGWP UNTIL AUGUST 2022

VACCINE APPROVED FOR 5 – 11 YEARS OLDS IN AUSTRALIA

Aussie kids are set to roll up their sleeves from 10th January 2022, as the federal government approved #COVID19 vaccinations for five to 11-year-olds. Vaccination experts have recommended children in the age group receive the Pfizer vaccine at one-third of the regular dosage. Subject to ATAGI (Australian Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation) advice, it is expected a vaccination program for 5 to 11 year olds will commence from 10th January 2022.

DIRECT FLIGHTS FROM PERTH TO ROME

Western Australians will soon fly straight to Italy with Qantas announcing a nonstop Perth to Rome service once the border opens. Qantas has announced it will launch a seasonal three-times-weekly nonstop service to Rome from 22nd June 2022, using the Boeing 787-9 aircraft. Many Western Australians have family links with Italy and it will now be easier to reunite after so long apart safely.
